MOBIQA NAMED IN TECH MEDIA INVEST TOP 100

Mobiqa are chosen as one of Tech Media Invest 2009's Top 100 Companies

Edinburgh, UK. – (9th September 2009) – Mobiqa, world leader in mobile ticket, mobile boarding pass and mobile coupon technology, has been listed in the prestigious Tech Media Invest Top 100. Tech Media Invest Top 100 identifies the most innovative technology companies in the UK. Sponsored by Pricewaterhouse Coopers and Kemp

Little, the list showcases entrepreneurial companies that are developing innovative ways to serve businesses and consumers, and have the potential to radically change the shape of the technology and media industry.

Recently Mobiqa has demonstrated the superiority of its products and services by winning key contracts, especially within the airline sector. Mobiqa is currently providing mobile boarding pass solutions to Delta/Northwest Airlines, the world's largest carrier, plus SWISS, Scandinavian Airlines, Qatar Airways and Spanair. Within the live events industry, Mobiqa supplies Ticketmaster; Tickets.com and Major League Baseball.

Tech Media Invest 2009 aims to address the funding gap particularly prevalent in the technology sector and to showcase a wide spectrum of innovative companies – from fresh start-ups with next generation technologies through to fast growing, investor-backed platforms. Tech Media Invest 2009 presented the top 100 technology and media companies, including Mobiqua, in a dedicated Guardian supplement and plan to bring together these companies, global investors, expert advisers and potential business partners at a dedicated one day event in London on 1st October.

On being listed, Nick Rankin, CEO, Mobiqua comments, "Everyone at Mobiqua is delighted and privileged to have been listed in Tech Media Invest Top 100. Mobiqua continually strive to push the boundaries of innovation, offering our customers the best user-experience through cutting-edge mobile technologies. We're proud to be named alongside other top UK companies in the industry and fully endorse Tech Media Invest 2009 in giving a huge amount of exposure to a sector that would benefit greatly from increased funding."
