THE GLOBAL PERSPECTIVE
ON THE GO

INTERNATIONAL
Herald Tribune

Wednesday, November 09, 2005 (PARIS)

AFP PHOTO PHILIPPE HUGUEN

Emergency decree published in Paris

By MEG BORTIN / IHT

The French government on Wednesday published a state-of-emergency decree empowering local authorities to clamp a curfew on 38 towns and regions, including the city of Paris.

Read Article >>

Sarkozy softens his tone on rioters

For tourists, rioting remains distant

In U.S. off-year election, some gains for Democrats

By BRIAN KNOWLTON / IHT

Democrats won elections handily in two key off-year contests for governor on Tuesday.

Winners and losers from rise in dollar

By EDMUND L. ANDREWS / NYT

Propelled by rising interest rates in the United States, the dollar is surging, hitting two-year highs this week against the euro and yen.

Iraq moves ahead with trial for Saddam

Bird flu efforts could cost $1 billion

Scientists unearth earliest known Hebrew ABCs

Cellphones pick up a British accent

Companies in the U.K. are leading European innovation in the mobile phone industry.

Letter from China

Howard W. French: The cross-pollination of India and China.

France in turmoil

Slide show: Riots continue for 13th night. Share your thoughts

Exit at top muddles Indian diplomacy

An awkward time to be without a minister.

> World Markets

Europe | Americas | Asia

FTSE

Advertisement

Properties

A Private
London Residence
At a Fraction of the Cost

on your