WORLD FIRST: 'ADVANTAGE MOBILE' AT THE MUTUA MADRILEÑA MASTERS MADRID

Mobile phone tickets for the Madrid Masters heralds a world first for tennis ticketing as the tournament is held for the last time in Recinto Ferial Casa de Campo.

The social and sporting prestige of the Mutua Madrileña Masters Madrid is more than enough to attract the crowds but this year not only sees the Madrid Masters tournament held for the final time at the Madrid Arena (Recinto Ferial Casa de Campo), it is also the first Tennis Tournament in the world to offer fans the chance to receive the tickets to see their favourite players in action using just their mobile phones.

UK based Mobiqua, world leaders in mobile ticketing technology, and Mticket, Mobiqua's exclusive partner for Spain, have teamed up to offer tennis fans the opportunity to see Nalbandian defend his Madrid Masters title against the likes of Murray, Karlovic, Nadal and Federer by gaining entry to the courts using their mobile phones.

Those wanting a more convenient means of getting their tennis tickets can opt for the mobile option when buying their tickets online at www.mtuamad-mastersmadrid.com. The fan opts for mobi-ticket and their ticket is sent to their mobile phone. mobi-ticket contains a unique barcode and information about the match, the barcode is scanned at the entrance to the Madrid Arena staff to allow tennis fans into the grounds.

The Madrid Masters in October is the first time in the world that this innovative mobi-ticket technology from Mobiqa and Mticket has been used at a tennis tournament. mobi-ticket offers tennis fans and event organisers numerous advantages over traditional paper tickets including instant delivery and increased sales as tickets can be sold right up to the last minute. mobi-tickets also reduce distribution and operational costs as well as touting because they can't simply be transferred like a paper ticket. Fans can take advantage of the added convenience of the ticket being sent straight to their phone and organisers have the opportunity to use the entry ticket as a coupon or voucher for food at the venue with this versatile mobile ticketing technology.

Rafa Banus, Mticket Managing Director adds, "Little by little in Spain we are introducing this new technology in concerts, cinemas and professional fairs but it is in a large scale and successful sport event like the Madrid Masters where the audience become familiar with the comfort and reliability that this service provides them. We hope it will soon become a permanent and demanded service in these kind of events".
